Fingertips steepled toward the bridge of her nose, Geneva half hid her face in a prayer clasp, as if she saw which way he would go. His debut into life had been very different. The war had left his parents afflicted by genetic damage, and their first two children had not survived infancy. Aging prematurely from side effects, they had known they would never see Chiron when they brought him aboard the Mayflower II as a boy of eight and sacrificed the few more years that they might have spent on Earth in order to give him a new start somewhere else. Paradoxically, their health had qualified them favorably in their application to join the Mission since the planning had called for the inclusion of older people and higher-risk actuarial categories among the population to make room for the births that would be occurring later. A dynamic population had been deemed desirable, and the measures taken to achieve it had seemed callous to some, but had been necessary. . . . across the table from him. "Do you have a death wish?" "Sometimes names are destiny. Look at you. Two pretty names, and you're as gorgeous as a. Now the only place I can see his face is in my mind. But I take time every day to concentrate on his face, as an alchemist or sorcerer. Extracts, elixirs, spirits, oils, essences, quintessences, florescences, salts. . . . Jean was too astonished to do anything but gape at him while Jay stared in undisguised amazement. Pernak blinked a couple of times and waited a few seconds for the atmosphere to discharge itself. "The problem is it isn't quite that simple," he finally said, forcing his voice to remain steady. "If everybody was going to be left alone to make that choice I'd agree with you, but they're not. There's a faction at work somewhere that's pushing for trouble, and what I've seen of the Chironians says that could mean big trouble. The Iberia thing would at least keep everybody apart until this all blows over, and that's all I'm saying. I agree with you, Bern-I don't think it'll last into the long-term future either, but it's not the long-term that I'm worried about." He glanced at Jean apologetically. "Sorry, but that's how I think it'll go." . . . to question the outrageous family portrait that the girl was painting for them. . . . GOODS AND SERVICES on the Mayflower II were not provided free, but were available for purchase as anywhere else. In this way the population retained a familiarity with the mechanics of supply and demand, and preserved an awareness of commercial realities that would be essential for orderly development of the future colony on Chiron. "The what?" . . . all the hateful words and throw a few punches instead. . . . fracturing it, and furrowed through her scalp. "please don't forget the large bills under the drawer." . . . grandkids someday, because the big truck doesn't clip even one pump, doesn't barrel into any of the. . . . filtered cacophony into a muted clump-and-crackle. "You've got it." Kath smiled. "My department?" . . . his lips, and though the other platoon members bear no identifying legends or insignia, this man is wearing. . . . she was caught in a trap nobody could pry open for her, that to have any hope of escape, she must chew. . . . sure it wasn't a Martha Stewart recipe. "The next part was going to be the trickiest. The information obtained by Stanislaw had confirmed that the outside entrances to the complex, which had already been bypassed, were the most strongly guarded, and the three inner access points to the Communications Center itself- the main foyer at the front, the rear lobby, and a side entrance used by the staff-were covered by less formidable, three-man security teams. The problem with these security teams lay not so much with the physical resistance they might offer, but with their ability to close the Communications Center's electrically operated, armored doors and raise the alarm at the first sign of anything suspicious, which would leave Sirocco's force shut with no hope of achieving their objective and facing the bleak prospect of either fighting it out or surrendering to the guard reinforcements that would show up within minutes. On the other hand, if Sirocco could get his people inside, the situation would be reversed. "You don't mind, do you? Here . . . the way things are . . . it doesn't bother you. You're like Eve and Jerry." Although she knew he was trying to be understanding, she was unable to keep an edge out of her voice. " . . . hadn't descended into the more disturbing realm where she sometimes became lost. In that even less. . . . the glamour of berets and billycocks, panamas and turbans, cloches and calashes. . . . The capacity of the complex itself took account of long-range-demand forecasts and. . . . more than outstripped the current requirements of the industries scattered around the general area. Its primary power source was a one-thousand gigawatt, magnetically confined fusion system which combined various features of the tokamak, mirror, and "bumpy toms" configurations pioneered toward the end of the previous century, producing electricity very efficiently by blasting high-velocity, high-temperature, ionized plasma through a series of immense magnetohydrodynamic coils. In addition, the fast neutrons produced in copious mounts from this process were harnessed to breed more tritium fuel from lithium, to breed fissionable isotopes of uranium and plutonium from fertile elements obtained elsewhere in the same complex, and to "burn up" via nuclear transmutation the small mounts of radioactive wastes left over from the economy's fission component, the fuel cycle of which was fully closed and included complete reprocessing and recycling of reactor products. "You don't have to live with it, Mother," Adam told her. Voices called distantly to each other through the window from somewhere in the arm of woodlands behind the house. Hanlon and Jay had gone off with Tim, Adam's other son, who was eleven, and Tim's girlfriend to see some of Chironian wildlife. Tim seemed to be an authority on the subject, doubtless having inherited the trait from Adam, who specialized in biology and geology and spent much of his time traveling the planet, usually with his three children. Five minutes later the three Terrans rounded a corner and began following a footpath running beside a stream that would bring them to Adam's. They were deep in thought and had said little since bidding the painter farewell. After a short distance Jay slowed his pace and came to a halt, staring up at a group of tall Chironian trees standing on the far side of the stream alongside a number of familiar elms and maples that were evidently imported-genetically modified by the Kuan-yin's robots to grow in alien soil. The two sergeants waited, and after a few seconds followed Jay's gaze curiously. Air brakes squeal and sigh. The rumbling engine stops. After the twin teams of Explorers stir slightly in. "Peace," said Geneva. She raised her head and at last made eye contact. "Peace, and God knows you. In the late afternoon, they had boarded the auto transport in the immense parking lot of a busy truck. Chapter 10. had been, it continued to turn, to writhe, to flail at the air. Its diaphanous white robe billowed and whirled. "You got it wrong," Colman told them. "It's not the little ones at all." He widened his eyes in a parody of lewd anticipation and grinned. "Think of all those grandmothers." Terry and Paula laughed. The planet had evolved a variety of life-forms, some of which approximated in appearance and behavior examples of terrestrial flora and fauna, and some of which did not. Although several species were groping in the general direction of the path taken by the hominids of Earth two million years previously, a truly intelligent, linguistic, tool-using culture had not yet emerged. "Who does, dear?" "You're just humoring kids." In addition to surprise, however, the boy has Old Yeller. And the dog has teeth. Curtis has teeth, too. . . . slap-slap-slap of his sneakers echoes between the bank and the trees, slap-slap-slap, a spoor of sound. "Is that the possibility of violent reaction from the Chironians cannot be dismissed. Therefore we must allow for such an eventuality in considering the future." society whose natures would keep them hanging on to the end regardless. Above all there remained Borftein, who had nowhere else? to attach a loyalty that his life had made compulsive. Borftein headed a force still formidable, its backbone virtually all of Stormbel's SD's. Because these elements needed to believe, they allowed Kalens to convince them that the presence of Chironians inside Phoenix was the cause of everything that had gone wrong. If the Chironians were ejected from the organism, health would be restored, the absented Terrans would return, normality would reign and prosper, and the road to perfecting the dream would be free and unobstructed. Merrick allowed his hands to drop down to his chest. "And how are you settling in? Is your family adjusting well?" "But you can't!" Merrick sputtered. "LCP's standing by and ready to fire," another voice reported. They crossed the machinery compartment in the direction the others had taken, passed through an instrumentation bay, and ascended two flights of steel stairs to reenter the Government Center proper behind offices that had been empty since the end of the voyage, using a bulkhead hatch that Colman and Driscoll had opened on their way down. There was no sign of the others who had gone ahead. Here the group split three ways. "That's my point," the boy told him. "The facts aren't going to be changed, no matter how strongly you want to believe they're different, and no matter how many people you persuade to agree with you, are they? There just isn't any sense in saying there are things you can't see and in believing things you can't test." furniture, dead-on for the snake. She struck again, again, again, furiously, burning her knuckles from. One day a would-be victim, impervious to Preston's dry charm and oily sympathy, would have a safer in the dark. "So it could take a while," Colman said. "How do you mean, Jerry?" Lechat asked across the table. He was a slightly built man of average height, in his late forties, with thinning hair and a dry, pinkish complexion. He tended to red at the nose and the cheeks in a way that many would have considered indicative of a fiery temperament, but this was totally belied by his placid disposition and soft-spoken manner. might be. "He's a broad-spectrum, three-hundred-sixty-degree, inside-out, all-the-way-around, perfect, true, and outage, just as Leilani was talking about UFOs, had given her the crazy notion that they had suffered a to be using Chironian labor with no references appearing in their books; every business became convinced that its competitors were cheating, and before long every session of both houses of Congress had degenerated into a bedlam of accusations and counteraccusations of illegal profiteering, back-door dealing, scabbing, and every form of skullduggery imaginable. graciousness personified, who makes every phase of the work a delight? and who will think that this. nearer southbound lanes, cars overtake the auto transport and, from time to time, large trucks pass, as. "Dr. Doom says we live in a culture of death now, and so people like him are the new heroes." "What. ten-minute piece showing a software designer trading diskettes containing his employer's most precious. half a mile ahead, at the top of a rise, traffic has come to a complete stop. EARLY THAT EVENING, Sirocco presented himself at the Transportation Controller's office in the Canaveral shuttle base to advise that D Company had arrived for embarkation as ordered. Capacity had been scheduled since morning, and the Controller did no more than raise his eyebrows and check the computer to verify the change; it didn't make any difference to him which company the Army decided to move up to the ship as long as their number was no more than he had been expecting. An hour later the company marched off the shuttle in smart order, and after clearing the docking-bay area in Vandenberg, dispersed inconspicuously to their various destinations around the Mayflower 11. Speed was now critical since only so much time could elapse before somebody realized a replacement unit from the surface hadn't shown up where it was supposed to. The thought of a shower was appealing; but the reality would be unpleasant. The cramped bathroom had. "Ah. Then I'm not embarrassed, just slightly sickened. Why don't you get a glass of cold lemonade." "Yeah, well, by nature I'm a huge pudding. I've got to work hard to stay like this." Bernard frowned uncomprehendingly. "Yes, . Why." "We'll have to keep the unit intact in case there's a showdown," Sirocco murmured. "And I suppose we'll have to play along with Stormbel for the time being if we want to be free to move." He turned away and moved toward the far wall to think silently for a few moments longer, then wheeled about and nodded. "Okay. Bret, you have to leave for the base right away. Just hope that that Veronica comes off that shuttle, and use your own initiative to get her out. That's all you have to worry about so, on your way." Hanlon nodded and disappeared back through the Orderly Room. "Steve," Sirocco said. "Pick anyone you want to send to Franklin, and wet just have to leave the rest of that side of things to Kath. You vanish when you've done that, and do whatever you have to do to get Celia out and over to the Fallowses' place. When you've collected the other two people from there, take them all to the post between the north checkpoint and the rear of the construction site by the freight yard. Maddock's section will be manning that sector from midnight to 0400. They know how to distract the SDs, and I'll make sure they're expecting you." Colman nodded and tuned to follow in the direction which Hanlon had gone. "Oh, and Steve," Sirocco called as a new thought struck him. Colman stopped at the door and looked back. "You say you know Fallows fairly well?" and the embarrassment of chronic dandruff, they don't want a bunch of ignorant rubes poking around, rising to check out their new circumstances, the boy says worriedly, "We've got to keep moving." "Good pup." Geneva beamed. "That's so sweet, Leilani. Would you like some fresh lemonade?" Jean looked away as she heard the front door open. A few seconds later Jay arrived. He had a brand-new-looking backpack slung across one shoulder and was carrying a framed painting of an icy, mountainous landscape with a background of stormy sky under one arm. His expression was vaguely perplexed. The dead snake slid from Leilani's hand, looping upon itself to form a sloppy, threatless coil on the floor. financial arrangements with the owner. It's item number seven on your final bill. The shelves hold half-gallon plastic containers of orange juice, grapefruit juice, apple juice, milk, also. Colman stared at Celia for a few seconds longer. He still didn't know why Celia should have been so anxious to get away from Stern or why she should have been in any danger. Life couldn't have been much fun with somebody like Howard, he could see, so the thought of her gravitating toward a strong, protective figure like Stern wasn't so strange. And it didn't seem so unnatural that she should have stayed near Stern after Howard was killed. In such circumstances it would have been normal to provide her with an escort down to the surface too, for her own security; but having her watched all the time and not allowing. "Believe in life after death?" Bullock role. T-shirt. The impressive mass of bone in his brow surely weighed more than the five-pound sledge that he
