If the National Security Agency also has operatives in. but which seemed only impossibly difficult now. Leilani pulled open the door. The paired punctures, like a vampire bite, were in this case the mark of a vampire bitten. To avoid using a compad in not-too-private surroundings, he went to a public booth in the lobby at Rockefeller's to call the number programmed to accept cabs only if she was alone. While Colman waited for a response, his mind flashed back six months. He had been standing stiffly at attention in dress uniform alongside a display of a remote-fire artillery control post that was part of the Army's contribution to the Fourth of July celebrations, when she wandered away from a group of VIPs sipping cocktails and stood beside him to gaze admiringly at the screens. carrying simulated battlefield displays. She ran her long, painted fingernail slowly and suggestively along the intricate control panel for the satellite-tracking subsystem. "And how many more handsome young men like you do they have in the Army, Sergeant?" she murmured at the displays before her. had married the congressman five years ago, before the first of his three successful political campaigns. had these memory problems now and then, ever since I was shot in the head. A few wires got scrambled. "You sure? The sky goes away in the dark, and everything gets so big. I don't want her scared." old Sinsemilla would do in a similar situation. In any predicament whatsoever, if Leilani wondered which. "Let's do that," Pernak agreed. "I'll take the things." "They can go on the maglev on their own," Murphy informed them. "The handler at the village terminal will route them through. You pick them up by the elevator in your basement. What's your number there?" "I find them a refreshingly honest and direct people. You know where you stand with them." Bernard gave a slight shrug. "In view of the short time we've been here, I think everything has gone surprisingly well. Certainly it could have been a lot worse." "Suppose I said I could. Would that tell you anything?" Driscoll took another drag of his cigarette. "I guess not. How would I know if you knew what you were saying or if you'd just been programmed to say it? There's no way of telling the difference." fracturing it, and furrowed through her scalp. Nevertheless, the possibility that the hunters might be right here is disconcerting. Their nearness makes. exhausted, afraid, still lost, and in need of a plan. They already knew that heavy transport movements were scheduled for the day ahead, most of them involved with transporting artillery, armor, and other equipment down from Mayflower II for a build-up inside the shuttle base, which was no doubt why Stern had wanted to seize all of it. It looked as if he intended to move upon Franklin in force, probably under cover of orbital weapons launched from the ship. With the coup in the Mayflower 11 now accomplished and the ship evidently considered secure, the SDs who had been concentrated there were being moved down to strengthen what was to become a fortified base for surface operations, and some regular units were being moved up to take over duties aloft. Stanislaw had identified an order for C company to embark at 1800 hours that evening for transfer to the Mayflower II, which was just the kind of thing that Sirocco had been hoping for- Sirocco was willing to gamble that with a busy day ahead and lots to do, nobody would have time to question a late change- in the orders. "As ever," Kath told him and smiled. "And yours, Lurch?" mad, insane. There's a lot of that going around. Dressed in sandals and baggy plaid shorts and a T-shirt. thirsty, too. "By my authority." Matthew Stern rose from his seat and came round onto the floor to face the assembly defiantly. "This prattling has continued for too long. I have no eloquent speeches to make. Enough time has been wasted on such futilities already. You will all proceed now, under escort, to quarters that have been allocated and remain there until further notice. We have business to attend to." He nodded at Stormbel, who motioned at the guards. "I would like Admiral Slessor's to remain behind to discuss matters concerning the continued well-being of the ship." "What?" "I didn't think it would, so I won't say it." Curtis doesn't want a refuge. He wants to find an escape hatch. And quickly. CHAPTER FOUR. mystery, and moment. bathroom break, they are intent on getting away from flying bullets. protect him. "But all the troubles in the world," said Wendy, "have the same one answer." But Kath talked on freely and naturally, and slowly their inhibitions began to melt. She began by asking how they liked Franklin, and in ten minutes had captivated them all. Soon they were chattering like school kids on a summer vacation--including the relief party from the transporter, who had appeared in the meantime. The detail due for a break seemed to have forgotten about it. Something very strange was going on, Colman told himself again. "Thank you. Are you sure your mother wouldn't like to join us?" Pernak spread his hands and nodded. "Yes. Sorry and all that kind of thing, Paul, but that's how it is." least as long as my pseudofather keeps her supplied with drugs. A melodic voice arises from the radio, recounting the story of a lonesome cowpoke and his girlfriend in. character or figure from Arthurian legend that Sinsemilla imagined herself to be. "You're the first Terran we've talked to," Shirley said. She nodded her head to indicate the direction they had come from. "We've got a class of kids back there who are bubbling over with curiosity. How would you like to come in and say hello, and talk to them for five minutes? They'd love it." shame arose from the fact that she had spilled her guts this evening. Spilled, gushed, spewed. She'd told. "But if what you've just said it true, Steve, the real threat is against the ship," Sirocco said, tugging at his moustache. "What are these weapons, and what would it take to make the Chironians use them? I've got to have more information." Someone is walking beside the trailer, approaching the back where the boy kneels. "Her name's Karla Rhymes," Noah reported. "When she worked as a dancer, she called herself Tiffany. the shadows, which draped but didn't cool the kitchen, were no darker than lavender and umber. old Sinsemilla four years ago, when I was five going on six. It's amazing how many causes aren't worth fighting for when you know it's you Who's going to have to do the fighting." He shook his head slowly. "No, we don't get too much of that kind of thing." Kalens had argued a case to the effect that Wellesley could, which had been concocted by a couple of lawyers that he had spoken to a day previously. At the same time, however, the lawyers had cautioned that the issue would be subject to a ruling by the Judiciary, and Kalens had come in an endeavor to obtain in advance from Fulmire an intimation of the likely verdict, hinting that a favorable disposition would not go forgotten in times to come. The endeavor had backfired spectacularly. The dog peers at something in the oily Muck gloom under the big truck. Instead of growling again, he "Girl, don't say such things!" Geneva admonished. "Someone will believe you. We were playing." "I'd love a piece, thanks," Leilani said. Richard Velnod couldn't free himself, but at least he could set loose mice and moths. Noah could free your dad a murderer? "This zwieback crap." "You got it wrong," Colman told them. "It's not the little ones at all." He widened his eyes in a parody of lewd anticipation and grinned. "Think of all those grandmothers." Terry and Paula laughed. Colman grinned and stroked her hair. "You're right. So what do you want to hear about?" Hanlon shook his head. "Ah, why be vindictive? We got her off and sent them all on their way. They're probably in Franklin by now, looking for the fastest way out of town." "But you haven't. You haven't let it go at all." The features behind the other's visor remained unsmiling. "Mister Fallows to you, Sergeant." The voice was icy. "I'm sorry, but I have work to do. I presume you have as well. Might I suggest that we both get on with it." With that he clasped the handrails of the ladder, stepped backward off the platform to slide gently down to the level below, and turned away to rejoin the others. identify a reason for this almost sweet anticipation. Defensively, she tempered it with wariness.
