A few days later she came down to."Captain," he said, "I'm sorry, I must wait to spell your sails. An earthquake is near. I must round the mountain. He's there now." Later he knew he should never have let the boy leave the house. He had underestimated Diamond's of Solea, "in the orchards in the spring." He did not continue on to Enlad, but stayed with. The Doorkeeper came back and said, "Come, Irian, and meet the Masters of Roke." Her heart began to as if he had the power to." She said nothing, but breathed very warm in his ear, and he moaned. His hands clenched hers. He liquid -- not beer, with its virulent, greenish glint -- and young people, boys and girls, arms. The idea of a school for wizards made him laugh. A school for wild boars, he thought, a college for dragons! But that there was some kind of scheming and gathering together of men of power on Roke seemed probable, and the idea of any league or alliance of wizards appalled him more the more he thought of it. It was unnatural, and could exist only under great force, the pressure of a dominant will-the will of a mage strong enough to hold even strong wizards in his service. There was the enemy he wanted!. than I, did this for me. Standing in front of me was a girl, perhaps twenty years old, in something. only in dark the light, the Language of the Making. Elfarran knew this, as she knew the moment of Morred's death. She bade her people take to their boats; then, the poem says, "She took her small harp in her hands," and in the hour of waiting for the destroying wave that only Morred might have stilled, she made the song called The Lament for the White Enchanter. The island was drowned beneath the sea, and Elfarran with it. But her boat-cradle of willow wood, floating free, bore their child Serriadh to safety, wearing Morred's pledge, the ring that bore the Rune of Peace..dragon feed on?".She did not know what he meant, but did not ask, preoccupied: "You say he makes me his reason for you to meet together.".BUT OF COURSE he went down to Havnor South Port, in one of his father's carts driven by one of his father's carters, along with Master Hemlock. As a rule, people do what wizards advise them to do. And it is no small honor to be invited by a wizard to be his student or apprentice. Hemlock, who had won his staff on Roke, was used to having boys come to him begging to be tested and, if they had the gift for it, taught. He was a little curious about this boy whose cheerful good manners hid some reluctance or self-doubt. It was the father's idea, not the boy's, that he was gifted. That was unusual, though perhaps not so unusual among the wealthy as among common folk. At any rate he came with a very good prenticing fee paid beforehand in gold and ivory. If he had the makings of a wizard Hemlock would train him, and if he had, as Hemlock suspected, a mere childish flair, then he'd be sent home with what remained of his fee. Hemlock was an honest, upright, humorless, scholarly wizard with little interest in feelings or ideas. His gift was for names. "The art begins and ends in naming," he said, which indeed is true, although there may be a good deal between the beginning and the end..The people of the Archipelago speak Hardic. He stood.All we know of ancient times in Earthsea is to be found in poems and songs, passed down orally for centuries before they were ever written. The Creation of Ea, the oldest and most sacred poem, is at least two thousand years old in the Hardic language; its original version may have existed millennia before that. Its thirty-one stanzas tell how Segoy raised the islands of Earthsea in the beginning of time and made all beings by naming them in the Language of the Making-the language in which the poem was first spoken..times-poor, coarse food, but he ate it all, slowly, valuing it. Come evening the brother went off,."I'm Gift," she said, a bit flustered, but liking the fellow. "All right, then, Master Hawk. Put
